THEME OR TYPE OF PROJECT	Cleaning of the beach and conservation of the cloudy forest, construction.
AIMS OF THE PROJECT	This program is dedicated to true nature lovers who want to contribute to one of the biggest problems of our environment and society. Our main objective is the protection and conservation of two different ecosystems: the coast and the cloudy forest.
PROJECT'S ACTIVITIES	The group will clean the beach; pick up the garbage that comes to the beach carried by the wind and marine currents. In addition, raise awareness about the impact of garbage in the community. To do water basin conservation in the Reserve and help in the maintenance of the paths. Participants will learn and help to plant an orchard. We also will support in the renovation of the rooms for the volunteers.
COMMUNITY CONTEXT	The community of Ligüiqui is located in a small town of 350 people approximately, their main activity used to be fishing but nowadays they live from tourism. This little town is located close to the natural reserve of Pacoche and a protected marine area; it is a very important place for archeology. Through our work in the reserve, we contribute to the community by doing conservation of the cloudy forest, which is the source of water for the population living downstream.
