Introduction	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Arabic is the 5th most commonly spoken language in the world and an official language of the United Nations, the Arab League, the Organization of Islamic Conference, and the African Union. 2. Arabic is the language of Islam, understood by Muslims throughout the world. 3. There is a high demand for Arabic-speakers in the Western world; it opens job opportunities in a lot of fields: journalism, business and industry, education, finance and banking, translation and interpretation, consulting, foreign service and intelligence, and many others. 4. Knowing Arabic can promote intercultural understanding: Westerners are presented with one-dimensional negative stereotypes about Arabic-speaking people through the news media, films etc. People who know Arabic can negotiate the cultural and linguistic gap between nations and assist in solving and avoiding intercultural conflict. 5. Arabic influence is evident in many other languages.
Type of work	People interested in this project can choose between learning Darija, the Moroccan dialect, and Fusha, classic Arabic. Morocco is a safe and politically stable North African Muslim country, which makes it the ideal place to learn more about Arabic and Islamic influences. One of the best ways to develop greater knowledge of Islamic culture is to learn Arabic. In our program, we offer the participants 10 hours of tuition per week and volunteering hours in one of our projects in the morning.
Study theme	learning arabic
Accommodation	The volunteers will live in hosts families where they will be given 3 meals per day.
AIMS OF THE PROJECT	The aim of this project is to give the opportunity to people interested in learning Arabic and to come and discover the beautiful country of Morocco. By living with a Moroccan host family, the participants will be completely emerged in the local culture and will be able to take part in and adopt a Moroccan way of life. The idea is also to manage time in the morning to do some volunteer work to contribute to the development of the local society in addition to the Arabic lessons that will take place in the afternoon

Introduction	The town of Zagora sits at the foot of Anti-Atlas Mountains and on the shore of the Draa Valley in South Eastern Morocco. Zagora's allure is mainly attributed to the great Draa Valley, which is still a home for several of Morocco's tribes. The name Zagora is derived from "Tazagort," a mountain by the shore of Draa Valley overlooking the city. Zagora gathers a number of minority groups, including numerous Amazigh tribes from Ait Atta clan, and black African groups who emigrated from Sub-Saharan Africa, along with the Caravans. Arabs have also settled in Zagora, coming from Marrakech since the medieval times. Zagora's historical monuments and natural features are what enchant foreign guests most. Tourists from major European countries, such as France, Germany and Switzerland, travel to Morocco to explore Zagora. The region still preserves numerous Kasbahs and old fortresses that mark a bygone era. In addition, the Sahara desert landscapes of sand dunes and "Hamadas"* is also worth discovering. The artistic characteristics of Zagora lay in crafts, as well as folklore. Zagora is home to old pottery factories. Clay dishes are exclusively made in Tamegroute, featuring green colored productions and displayed in local and national exhibitions. Reed is also used to make crafts. Folklore in Zagora reflects the cultural identity of the joint communities. Both Amazighs and Arabs of the area, perform different artistic sho

Introduction	This project will combine discovering the city of Marrakech; trekking around in the Marrakech mountains and doing some solidarity work with the local population in the mountains. Participants will spend the first week in Rabat in a host family in order to get emerged into the local culture and will be given some language support classes as volunteer work. Afterwards they will move to the mountains surrounding Marrakech, where they will live in a private house rented for the purpose of the project.

Category	Trekking in the mountains of Marrakech
Type of work	The volunteers do not have any obligatory task, as it is not a regular work camp. The activities planned are designed exclusively for them to enjoy the Moroccan culture and way of life. They are expected to participate actively in all of them.
Accommodation	The volunteers will first live in a host family in Rabat, then in Marrakech they will live in a shared apartment rented by CSM. They will be given 3 meals per day. Even though blankets and mats will of course be provided, we highly recommend volunteers bring their own sleeping bags just in case. Important highlight: Toilets in Morocco are usually Turkish bath style. We prefer to warn you because we have learned from previous volunteers experiences.
Camp advert	The aim of this project is to offer the participants the opportunity to get to know the Moroccan culture while doing a special activity and going on an exciting adventure. The program includes visiting Rabat and Marrakech not only as tourist, but also to enjoy and get to know the Moroccan culture and to get immersed in it by participating in the several activities proposed. The main goal of this project is to promote intercultural understanding and bonds.
